REPAIR CAFE AT NANDI GARDENS

We organized a Repair Cafe event at Nandi Gardens, Avalahalli, on Sunday, August 11, in partnership with Saahas. Bicycle repair, knife sharpening and tailoring were the most sought after repair types, and sustainability-focused games were a hit with the kids. Check Page 2 for more pictures from the event and a report by our high-school intern, Anoushka!

FARMERS' MARKET AT GURUKUL SCHOOL

We organized a Farmers' Market on Sunday, August 18, at Gurukul School, JP Nagar, in partnership with Akshayakalpa. The breakfast counter was popular, as always, as were the activities and stalls. Go to Page 3 for a report by Anoushka and more pictures!

REPAIR CAFE AT NANDI GARDENS BY ANOUSHKA

On August 11, LVBL organized Repair Cafe in partnership with Saahas, at Nandi Gardens. The core idea of this event is to promote reusing and recycling. Bicycle mechanic, tailor, cobbler and knife sharpener are just some of the skilled workers who are brought together, along with an interactive session about waste management, games for children and a waste collection drive. The August 11 event saw over 50 people in attendance. Overall, the awareness campaign on reusability was worthwhile, as youngsters played sustainability-focused games and took back valuable lessons on the importance of waste control.

FARMERS' MARKET AT GURUKUL SCHOOL BY ANOUSHKA

On August 18, LVBL partnered with Akshayakalpa to host a Farmers' Market in Gurukul School, JP Nagar, bringing together organic farmers to sell their produce, along with activities and other stalls by local artisans and vendors. There was pottery, block printing, traditional games, coconut leaf art and organic mehndi. Crowds gathered to shop for sustainable clothing, artisanal gifting, organic food and beverages, among others. The pottery activity seemed to be the most loved. Akshayakalpa's live breakfast counter was a big hit, and they also had samples of some of their popular products, like cheese, buttermilk etc.

A MONTH OF BOOK READINGS AT GOOD EARTH MEDLEY

We organized a series of Book Readings during weekends in August, to commemorate Neil Armstrong Day, World Lion Day and National Sports Day, for children at Good Earth Medley. The last session culminated with traditional games and free watermelon popsicles, courtesy our partner, Perflice Candy! If you'd like to organise readings for little ones in your community, contact Ranjini: +91 81977 03999
